The goal of this 10-week program is to help each player reach their maximum potential by competing with other talented and committed players. If you are competitive and would like to compete with other competitive players, this is the place to be. I am seeking aggressive, confident, well-rounded players who want to be in an environment where they can continue to compete and make improvement in their overall game. If you are consistently being asked by someone to drive, shoot, play defense, hustle and practice, this isn't the place for you! I am seeking players who are deserving of an environment in which they can come and be challenged. Don't miss this opportunity! I promise it will bring out the best in you!

Cost: $650.00 ($50.00 discount will be given to players who bring a competitive player who has never participated in any of our HHB/BBI events)

Please note that this event is for serious players only, this environment is being provided for those players who have worked hard and has made the commitment to do what it takes to keep getting better. Please don't call or email to discuss whether your child is good enough and competitive enough to participate. This is for competitive players only!!!!!! My goal is to make this an overwhelming and inspiring experience. If you have friends who are looking for something like this, please invite them to come out and participate, the more competitive the better. **
